

TRAINER'S SELF-REFLECTING CONVERSATION TEMPLATE

As part of the requirement to become a Cognitive Coaching trainer, you will be taping yourself conducting coaching conversations. After viewing the tape, you will complete the CC Self-Assessing Rubric and write a reflective paper, following the Reflecting Conversation Map. The structure below is provided to guide your written reflection; please feel free to add other thinking to your written reflection.

1. How I feel about my video/DVD

or

What I think of my coaching in the video/DVD
What makes me feel/think that way?

2. Choose from the following and/or add those of your own:
  - Some of the things I did that supported thinking
  - How I made decisions about what questions to ask
  - My awareness of the coachee's SOM
  - My awareness of the coachee's BMIRS
  - How the conversation went compared to how I thought it would
3. What I am learning that I want to continue to focus on as I coach
4. When I might have an opportunity to apply that learning
5. How this reflection has supported my thinking about my coaching